THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. SED (Socialist Unity Party) leaders were confidentially informed that, at the first opportunity, Molotov will propose another international conference to be held in autumn 1954, in order to achieve European security.
2. The basis for negotiations at that conference would be Molotov's "All-European Treaty on Collective Security in Europe" which he submitted on 10 Feb 54 at the Berlin Conference. A proposal would also be added concerning the peace treaty with united Germany, which would include an agreement among the four Allies concerning the period of foreign military occupation of Germany, to be ended in 10 years following the cessation of hostilities. This would mean that foreign occupation would be ended in 1955.
3. The main purpose to be achieved by the conference would be the neutralization of Germany accepted by both the Bonn and the East Berlin Governments. It would be emphasized that reunification remains "an exclusively German affair".
